New Year...new opportunities

This month we celebrate the completion of our first year on the mission field. We can declare the words of Samuel, "Till now the LORD has helped us" (1 Sam. 7:12). We continue to trust in the Lord for his guidance, protection and provision.

Teaching and preaching

During this academic semester, Miguel has had the privilege of teaching two courses at the Central Bible School. Also, he has been ministering in churches, primarily in missions services, encouraging congregations to evangelize in their communities, and raising missions awareness and support for Costa Rican missionaries serving abroad.

Global University

Our work as National Directors of Global University Costa Rica is well on its way. The new national office is located at the Central Bible School. Prospective students come to the office regularly to inquire about further theological studies. We currently have about 50 students, and many are already enrolled in courses.

Along with the undergraduate programs, Global University has discipleship and leadership materials available for local churches. Assemblies of God national leaders in Costa Rica are recommending these resources to local churches. As a result, the training of teachers throughout the country on implementing and using these materials has become a great need.

Pastoral mentoring

Another new area of ministry is opening up for us in Costa Rica. Several pastors have asked us to be their mentors. We consider this a special privilege and are humbled by such responsibility. The burden of mentoring pastors has been in our hearts for several years now, and we see that it is God's timing to begin this facet of our ministry.

We need your help

We are so grateful for the churches and friends that pray for and partner with us. Recently, many of you have sent monthly offerings greater than your pledged amount. You are making a huge difference. Thank you so much! Yet, we have experienced a $1,300 shortfall in our monthly pledge support since our arrival on the mission field. Our ministry in Costa Rica is only possible with your prayer and financial support.

Our temporary residency applications have been approved for an initial two-year period, which is renewable. This is significant because we are now able to reside in country without leaving to renew visas on a regular basis. To finalize the process, Costa Rican immigration requires a guaranty deposit of $2,000. Please prayerfully consider sending a one-time special offering towards this special need.

Thank you!

We consider it a privilege to serve the Assemblies of God in Costa Rica reaching the lost and helping raise a new generation of workers in the Lord's harvest. We are fulfilling God's call through the continuous prayers and faithful financial support of churches and friends. Thank you so much for partnering with us!
