

Morales Memo

May 2017

Dear friends,

With just one year remaining in this missions term before going to the U.S. for itineration ministry, there is lots taking place.

Latin America Resource & Training Center

In March, we had the International Educational Leaders Dialogue, followed by the dedication of Phase One of the new Latin America Resource and Training Center. The Dialogue was a strategic meeting, clearly marking the path forward in training new ministry leaders throughout the region.

So far this year, we conducted Bible School teacher training seminars in Dominican Republic and Honduras. Next month, we have five seminars in Guatemala, Argentina and Uruguay. Later this year, five more seminars will take place in Ecuador, Panama and Costa Rica. This is all part of the International Certification Program for Professors and Administrative Personnel (PROCEPA) that we direct, with over 5,600 participants from 24 countries. Most of the participants are volunteer pastors that give of their time and are committed to training a new generation of ministry leaders in their respective countries.

Missions Mobilization

After a year of prayer and planning, we are so excited to see our vision of the new Missions Bible School become a reality in June. The objective is to offer ministry training to those interested in and called to missions in a flexible study program. We are praying to the Lord of the harvest to raise up a generation of Panamanians missionaries that will reach the unreached and under-reached people groups of the world with the Good News of Jesus.

Ngöbe Indigenous Bible Schools

The Ngöbe Bible School we launched in 2015 continues to make an impact. Over 100 pastors and leaders receive the much-needed training for effective ministry among one of the most marginalized people groups in Panama. With the renewed national church planting emphasis, the Bible School will play a key role in training church planters that will reach people in remote communities deep in the mountains of the Ngöbe reserve.

Thank you friends! Together we continue to make a difference in the lives of so many people in Panama and throughout Latin America.
